To encourage students to practice Chinese pronunciation and enunciation, RCLS will sponsor an annual Chinese Recitation contest. We hope parents and teachers will help children practice as well as give them encouragement and support. The contest details and rules are as follows.

1. Date: November 21st, 2009.

2. Formats:

- All classes are required to participate. Each participant has 2 minutes to recite an article in front of the whole class. The article for each class will be chosen by the teacher.

3. Contest rules:

- Students will compete against their classmates. No make-up will be held.
- Order of the contestant is based on alphabetical order of the students' last names.
- Parent volunteers will be sent to each classroom as judges. Parents cannot judge the classes where their children are in.

4. Judging:

- Each student will be judged in three categories: correct pronunciation and clarity: 40 points, flow of sentences and article: 30 points, tone and expression: 30 points.
- Memorizing or acting out the article will not gain extra points.
